The governor had the right to order new registra-tions, and he used it by signing orders for them in a number of counties, leaving the date blank to be filled up, by well-trained partisan officers. In Greene county the new registration was ordered two days be-fore the election, after the poll-books and registration lists had been sent out to the different voting places. The clerk then proclaimed through runners that no elec-tion would be held. The regularly ap-pointed judges officiated, however, and made regular returns to the clerk. He refused to certify them, and afterwards reported that they were stolen. In Poinsett county the clerk reported the returns stolen. In Johnson county a new registration was ordered four days before the election, and there, too, as in Greene, when the clerk could not prevent an election, he refused to certify the re-turns to the Secretary of State. In Scott county the Radicals stole the registration county the Kadicals stole the registration lists two-days before the election, and announced that no election would be held. Voters having registration certificates deposited their ballots with the proper officers, who made regular returns to the clerk, but he refused to certify them. Thus, though the Governor has no right to be trained as required. set aside a registration, and the old certificates are good until a new one is com-pleted, means were found to shut off returns from four counties, giving an aggregate Reform majority of at least 1,800. The treatment of the voters of these counties is alleged to be but part of a grand system of fraud extending to all parts of the State and including every possible crime against popular suffrage.
